Course grades may be lowered up to one-half letter grade for each one-hour absence in excess of three hours. The three hours of absence provided by university policy should be used carefully for illness and emergencies.

Attendance (absences, tardies, early exits) will be documented each day. Three tardies will be considered an absence. After two absences a letter will be sent to the Chair of the Department of Curriculum and Instruction. This letter will be added to your file. After three absences, you will be invited to a meeting where we will discuss your ability to successfully complete this class. In addition, a letter will be sent to the Professional Concerns Committee. This letter will also be added to your file. This information will also be used to decide borderline grades and to write letters of recommendation. Students should discuss each absence with the instructor.

Daily grades are given for class participation and in-class assignments. Daily work cannot be made up. Assignments need to be turned in on the due date. If for some reason you are unable to bring in an assignment, email it, or have a friend bring it in when it is due. 10% will be deducted each class period it is late.

I will only take responsibility for having handouts and materials at class on the day initially provided. If you have to be absent, be sure you have arranged for a peer to obtain materials for you.

Time Requirement:

For each hour attempted, at least three hours outside class is expected. This 3-credit hour course will meet three to four hours each week. That leaves a minimum of nine hours each week outside of class in which to read, observe, and complete assignments. It is expected that if you enrolled in this course, you can meet the time requirements.

Professionalism:

Attendance, punctuality, the quality of your interactions with colleagues and supervisors, and the quality and timeliness regarding completing assignments all determine your professionalism, which in turn, signals your readiness to advance in the teacher education program.

Course Requirements

Bell Work – 100 points (Competencies 5 and 6)

In Class Assignments/ participation – 200 points (competencies 5 and 6)

During the semester, work will be assigned to be completed in class or electronically. To receive credit, you must complete the assignment, and turn it in to me to be graded. Some of the grade will be your positive participation in group work and class in general as well as the quality of the work.

Personal Classroom Management Plan – 400 points (Competencies 5 and 6)

Each student will write a personal classroom management plan (CMP). This plan will include your Philosophy of Teaching, a discipline plan, first day plan, procedures and transitions and many other items that will help to prepare you for your first year in the classroom. The assignment sheet and rubric for this plan will be distributed in class.

Field Experience for the Secondary Methods Block

- What is Field Experience?
This course is a field-based course. This means you will spend at least 50% of time allotted for this class in a public secondary classroom. In addition, at least 50% of your grade in this class is based upon activities relating to field-based hours.
- What is the purpose of Field Experience?
Field Experience is designed to give you the opportunity to work with students and teach actual lessons to secondary public school classrooms. The overall purpose is to give you constant feedback and help you continuously improve your teaching performance.
- When is Field Experience?
Your days in the Field will be October 26th, 2007 to November 16, 2007. This means you will spend a minimum of 75 hours in your assigned Field Experience classroom.

- How do I get a mentor teacher?

Your mentor teacher will be assigned based on your certification area. These teachers are eager to assist you in your journey to become a teacher. This means they will not always be “nice”. Their honest feedback concerning your strengths and weaknesses in the classroom is critical to your professional development. It is your responsibility to reflect upon their suggestions and implement new strategies in the classroom. (This is different for music educators.)

- What will I be required to do during Field Experience?

The first thing to keep in mind is that this is Field Experience, not observation. Your first day or two in the classroom, you might sit and observe to become oriented. However, on subsequent days, you should be working to assist your mentor by tutoring students, working with small groups, participating in duty assignments, grading papers, organizing materials, preparing for upcoming lessons and teaching lessons whenever possible. DO NOT JUST SIT! It is your responsibility to ask how you can be of assistance.

You are required to teach a minimum of two lessons. Your mentor teacher will evaluate one of these lessons. The other will be evaluated by one of your university professors. The evaluation instrument is the Professional Development and Appraisal System or PDAS. We will spend some time in class discussing this instrument to make sure everyone is comfortable with this assessment tool.

We highly recommend that you teach as many lessons as your mentor teacher will allow. The more time you spend in front of the class now, the easier student teaching will become.

- What are the teacher work sample (TWS) requirements in field experience?

Each day that you are in the Field Experience Classroom, you will be observing, implementing, and evaluating information you have learned in the methods' classroom. To assist you in this process, your methods' instructors will supply you with a detailed work sample assignment sheet and rubric. We will discuss the information contained in these documents at length.

- How will I be assessed during Field Experience?

Explanation Below

- PDAS Observations, lesson plans and reflections – 100 points (2 sets at 50 points each) (Competency 3, 5 and 6)

Twice as you teach one of your required lessons, your mentor teacher will evaluate you. After you have taught the lesson, the following items will be submitted to your methods professors as part of your packet:

- Lesson Plan in correct format
- PDAS Evaluation Form completed by mentor
- Your reflection of the lesson's effectiveness

- Weekly Mentor Teacher's Feedback – 50 points

At the end of each week, your mentor teacher will be asked to complete a weekly disposition form. This form will help you; your mentor teacher as well as your university professors monitors your progress in the classroom.

- Overall Mentor Teacher’s Disposition Evaluation – 50 points
Just as we assess your professional dispositions, the school personnel, especially your mentor teacher, do also. At the beginning of your Field Experience, your mentor teacher will be given a Disposition Evaluation form (see attached). As your time in their classroom ends, your mentor will complete the form and return it to your university professors.
- Teacher Work Sample – 350 points (Competency 3, 5 and 6)
Information concerning this component will be discussed at a later date.
- Weekly Field Experience Reflection –50 points
At the end of each week, you will be asked to complete a reflection form based on your experiences during Field Experience. This form will help you identify areas of strength and areas of needed improvement.
- Walk-Through Feedback – No points
As we walk around campus and into your classroom, we will complete a walk-through form. This form is intended to offer feedback on what we observe.
