Course Description

This course is a continuation of Basic Design I with emphasis on various compositional approaches and color organization using a variety of materials and media. Prerequisites: Design I. A variety of class projects explore the use of color as well as color mixing.

Course Objectives

- Continue exploration of the elements of design- line, color, shape, texture and value in conjunction with the principles of organization.
- Develop perception of color hue, value, intensity and temperature.
- Develop an understanding of the psychological aspects of color, color theories, and applications.
- Demonstrate the creation of color by mixing, optical blending and transparency.
- Identify specific color harmonies and critique their application.
- Create two-dimensional designs displaying the effective use of color.

Text

There is no required text for this class. Suggested reading and reference: Art Fundamentals- Theory and Practice, Ocvirk, Bone Stinson, and Wigg.

Required Supplies

Please refer to supply list. A folder is required for this class to keep various handouts and project requirements in. Place this syllabus in the folder and bring it to class with you every day.

Attendance Policy

Regular attendance is not only expected of each student, it is essential to meeting class objectives. Regardless of the reason, after 2 Absences your grade will be reduced one letter grade for each additional absence. Three late arrivals or early departures will result in one absence. If you disappear from the class for a long period of time it will be counted as either an absence or departure at my discretion. Your backpack/ supplies sitting in class does not qualify you as being present! Your supplies should be bought and research finished before you come to class. While you are in class I expect you to work on projects specific to this class. If you work on projects for other classes you are not present for this class. Any missed work due to absence must be made up.

Assignments

Specific compositional ideas and use of materials are presented in the form of a series of 10 – 12 class projects . The materials, content and methods for each assignment are clarified in advance. Some projects will be weighted more than others.

I will not give instructions for missed assignments over the phone or via e-mail.

Homework: You should expect to spend time outside of the classroom finishing projects.

Demonstrations and instruction will be presented at the beginning of the class. Don't be late.

Grading

Individual assignments will be graded considering the following criteria:

- Fulfillment of assignment criteria
- Personal creativity and initiative
- Strength of compositional strategy
- Investment of time and effort- this includes attendance, use of class time and commitment.
- Participation in critiques
- Presentation/ Neatness.

Final Grades:

The final Grade will be based on: an average of all assignments using the format described in grade value section found below.

- Class assignments = 75% of your grade
- Final Project =15 % of your grade. This may not be the last project of the semester, there may be other projects after it.
- Participation and preparation for class= 10 % This includes research for images, bringing in reference material to paint, participation in critiques, class demeanor, work ethic, attendance, making sure your class supplies are bought BEFORE you come to class. Be on time!

Other Information:

- Late work will receive an automatic one- letter grade reduction. I will not grade obviously unfinished work.
- Assignments may be reworked to improve a grade. You must consult with me regarding any work you plan to redo. A reworked project does not automatically assure your grade will be higher. To achieve a better grade the work must be significantly improved. Any reworked projects must be turned in by the Friday before the last class day.
- I will not give a final grade of an "A" to anyone who has not finished all the required assignments.
- Leave the head phones home. No text messaging!

Letter Grades: These are my thoughts regarding individual assignment letter grades.

A comment of good, does not equate to an "A"

Grade A: The work is strong, exceeding requirements of the instructor. The work displays initiative, resourcefulness and an independent sense of direction with regard to creative solutions. The work is neat, on time, and all facets of the project are complete. An obvious commitment in time and effort.

Grade B: Good, above average. The work is accurate and complete, meeting all requirements for the assignment.

Grade C: Barely meeting assignment requirements. Minimal investment of work, time, and effort.

Grade D: Below average: assignment incomplete.

Grade values:

A+ = 4.30 B+ = 3.30 C+ = 2.30 D+ = 1.30

A = 4.00 B = 3.00 C = 2.00 D = 1.00

A- = 3.70 B- = 2.70 C- = 1.70 D- = .70

If you have questions regarding your grade make an appointment to see me.

Academic Dishonesty

All students are expected to engage in all academic pursuits in a manner that is above reproach. Students are expected to maintain complete honesty and integrity in the academic experiences both in and outside of the classroom. Any student found guilty of dishonesty in any phase of academic work will be subject to disciplinary action. The University and its official representative may initiate disciplinary proceedings against a student accused of any form of academic dishonesty including, but not limited to, cheating on an examination or other academic work which is to be submitted, plagiarism, collusion and the abuse of resource materials.

Classroom Rules of Conduct

Students will refrain from behavior in the classroom that intentionally or unintentionally disrupts the learning process and thus, impedes the mission of the university. Cellular phones and pagers must be turned off before class begins. This means absolutely no text messaging!

Students are prohibited from eating in class, using tobacco products, making offensive remarks, reading newspapers, sleeping, talking at inappropriate times, wearing inappropriate clothing, or engaging in any other form of distraction. Inappropriate behavior in the classroom will result in a directive to leave class. Students who are especially disruptive may be reported to the Dean of Students for disciplinary action in accordance with university policy.

Visitors in the Classroom

Unannounced visitors to the class must present a current, official SHSU identification card to be permitted in the classroom. They must not present a disruption to the class by their attendance. If the visitor is not a registered student, it is at the instructor's discretion whether or not the visitor will be allowed to remain in the classroom.

Americans with Disabilities Act

It is the policy of Sam Houston State University that no otherwise qualified disabled individual shall, solely by reason of his/her handicap, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any academic or Student Life program or activity. Disabled students may request assistance with academically related problems stemming from individual disabilities by contacting the Director of Counseling Center in the Lee Drain Annex or by calling 936.294.1720

Student Absences on Religious Holy Days Policy

A student desiring to absent himself/herself from a scheduled class in order to observe (a) religious holy day(s) shall present to the instructor a written statement concerning the religious holy days(s) and the travel involved. This request must be made in the first 15 days of the semester or the first 7 days of a summer session in which the absence will occur. The instructor will notify the student of a reasonable timeframe in which the missed assignments and/ or exams are to be completed
