

GEOGRAPHY PROGRAM
SUMMARY OF CULTURAL GEOGRAPHY ASSESSMENT
FALL/SPRING 2011-2012

GEO 3350 (Cultural Geography) represents a course that most majors take during their Junior or Senior year, although an occasional student may take the course earlier in their program of study. The course informally serves as a capstone course in that it represents a “core” upper-level course within the broader “human geography” component of our undergraduate program. The results below are based on exam questions offered during the course of the semester. The course is offered every semester.
