A link to this site can also be found on blackboard. When you log into your account and click the CJ 261- Intro to Criminal Justice class, there should be an option on the left side of your screen that says, TEXTBOOK COMPANION WEBSITE. Click it and you will go directly to the site.

Course Description:

This course will introduce students to the criminal justice system. It will start with a brief look at theoretical ideas of why people commit crime and then move to how crime is defined and measured. From there it will walk the student through the funnel of justice, from police intake, through the court system, to a correctional output; with all of the possible exits along the way. It will examine the interaction of the system and its players and how that system balances the rights of an accused individual with the rights of the larger society to be protected.

Course Objectives:

Students who successfully master the course content will:

- Be able to list at least two examples of common measures of crime and know the difference between the two and some weaknesses of each.
- Be able to explain at least one difference between classical criminology and positivist criminology.
- Be able to articulate which constitutional amendment regulates police procedure.
- Be able to explain the difference between Problem Oriented Policing and Community Oriented Policing.
- Be able to accurately describe the structure of the federal and state court system.
- Know the individuals included in the courtroom workgroup and explain the concept.
- Be able to list and explain three possible goals of corrections.
- List and explain at least two forms of community corrections.

Grading:

Exam 1	20%	90 – 100 = A
Exam 2	20%	80 – 89 = B
Exam 3	20%	70 – 79 = C
Exam 4	20%	60 – 69 = D

	100%

Exams:

Exams will consist of multiple choice and true/false questions. Completing the chapter quizzes on the book companion website will assist students in preparing for your exams and is highly recommended. In addition, students are expected to bring a standard (882) scantron with them on the day of the scheduled exam.

Participation & Attendance:

Class attendance requirements will be followed in accordance with Academic Policy Statement 800401. Attendance is expected and will be taken daily. The university allows three hours of missed class time. This translates into 2 class for our purposes. I do not require any notification of why you will miss those classes; do what you will with those days. You will be responsible for what you miss. THIS MEANS: If you choose to miss a test date without a viable excuse, you will receive a zero on the test. If you are sick, or have some sort of emergency or any other reasonable situation and need to miss a class, please contact me. We all have situations that come up and I will work with yours so that your grade will not suffer. Aside from excused absences, those absences in excess of the allowed freebees, will be penalized in the 15% of your grade that is allotted to participation.

Make-Up Exams:

All make-up exams will be given on one day, at the end of the semester. You must have contacted me and discussed your absence from the original exam, in order to make up an exam.

Academic Honesty:

Students are expected to maintain complete honesty and integrity in the academic experiences both in and out of the classroom. Any student found guilty of dishonesty in any phase of academic work will be subject to disciplinary action.

<http://www.shsu.edu/administrative/faculty/sectionb.html#dishonesty>

The University and its official representatives may initiate disciplinary proceedings against a student accused of any form of academic dishonesty including, but not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, collusion and the abuse of resource materials.

"Cheating" includes:

(1) Copying from another student's test paper, laboratory report, other report, or computer files, data listings, and/or programs. (2) Using, during a test, materials not authorized by the person giving the test. (3) Collaborating, without authorization, with another student during an examination or in preparing academic work. (4) Knowingly, and without authorization, using, buying, selling, stealing, transporting, soliciting, copying, or possessing, in whole or in part, the contents of an unadministered test. (5) Substituting for another student, or permitting another student to substitute for oneself, to take a test. (6) Bribing another person to obtain an unadministered test or information about an unadministered test.

(7) Purchasing, or otherwise acquiring and submitting as one's own work any research paper or other writing assignment prepared by an individual or firm. This section does not apply to the typing of the rough and/or final versions of an assignment by a professional typist.

"Plagiarism" means the appropriation of another's work or idea and the unacknowledged incorporation of that work or idea into one's own work offered for credit.

"Collusion" means the unauthorized collaboration with another person in preparing work offered for credit.

"Abuse of resource materials" means the mutilation, destruction, concealment, theft or alteration of materials provided to assist students in the mastery of course materials.

Cell Phones, Pagers, Palm Pilots, Etc.:

All communication style or general noise making devises should be off or on silent during class. If you have an emergency situation or if you are on call from a professional position, please let me know before class begins. Some exceptions will, of course, be allowed in these cases. If you decide that, for any reason, you must send or receive a call, please leave the classroom to do so. This rule is in place to show respect for each student in the class, who may want to hear the lecture or discussion.

Disabled Student Policy:

Please meet with me if you have need for accommodations based on a disability. I will be happy to work with you to make any necessary arrangements. Please feel free to speak to me about it, even if you have only a minor request. For a full version of the disabled student policy, go to:

Student Absences on Religious Holy Days Policy:

Section 51.911(b) of the Texas Education Code requires that an institution of higher education excuse a student from attending classes or other required activities, including examinations, for the observance of a religious holy day, including travel for that purpose. A student who is excused under this subsection may not be penalized for that absence and shall be allowed to take an examination or complete an assignment from which the student is excused within a reasonable time after the absence.
