Sam Houston Learning Enhancement Center (LEC)

Located in the Ron Mafrige Field House at Elliott T. Bowers Stadium, the Sam Houston State Athletics Learning Enhancement Center(LEC) is a support center for Bearkat varsity student-athletes.

Equipped with a computer cluster, large study tables and comfortable seating, the LEC is a natural gathering place for student-athletes who come for academic advising, to study, to check e-mail or course assignments on line, be tutored, or to relax between class time and practice.

The LEC is staffed by the associate athletic director for student services and student-athlete services staff associate. The two work as a team in advising student-athletes and coordinating the Sam Houston student-athlete services program.

The goal of the program is to help each Sam Houston student-athlete realize their full academic potential, providing the following services for student-athletes: tutoring, advising/counseling and computer access.

The LEC features 24 computers with access to printers. The LEC is also a "hot spot" where students with wireless capability on their laptops can access the internet.

The LEC staff provides students with both short and long-term academic counseling and serves as a back-up to the student's assigned advisor.

The short term, student-athlete services helps the individual choose classes, provides information on professors and the workload and level of difficulty of classes; and aids in scheduling classes around practice and game schedules. Staff members also provide assistance should conflicts arise with exams and competition.

Over the student-athlete's career at Sam Houston, staff members help students choose majors that are consistent with their interests and goals, ensure that individuals fulfill their requirements and are on course to graduate, and offer guidance about graduate and professional school opportunities and career planning.
