COMBINED M.S. AND DIETETIC INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

College of Humanities and Social Science
Department of Family and Consumer Sciences

The Sam Houston State University (SHSU) Dietetic Internship (DI) Program is being offered through the Department of Family and Consumer Sciences, which has been involved in nutrition education since 1975. The DI program is based upon Accreditation Standards established by The Commission on Accreditation for Dietetics Education (CADE) of The American Dietetic Association (ADA), 120 South Riverside Plaza, Suite 2000, Chicago, IL. 60606-6995, 312/899-0040, ext. 5400, www.eatright.org. Students who successfully complete the Internship and the M.S. degree will be verified for eligibility to write for the ADA Registration Examination, leading to credentialing as a registered dietitian (RD).

Program Mission and Philosophy

The mission of The Sam Houston State University Dietetic Internship (DI) Program is to provide excellent supervised practice experience and high quality graduate education that will impart to the interns appropriate
