Scantron Forms 882e or 882es for exams.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Further development of financial accounting concepts, interpretation, and further study of management uses of accounting data. It includes a study of basic accounting concepts, interpretation of accounting reports, cost control and analysis, and methods of measuring performance. Not open to accounting majors.

COURSE OBJECTIVES: [Learn some new information and how to apply that information]

1. The student will understand the terms and concepts used in managerial accounting.
2. The student will be able to solve problems involving topics covered in the course.
3. The student will be able to apply managerial terms, concepts, and procedures to managerial situations.

COURSE EVALUATION PROCESS:

There will be three exams during the semester plus a comprehensive final exam [a total of four exams]. Course grades will be based on the best two of the three semester exams (33.33% each) plus the final exam (33.33%). Each student must take the final exam.

Grades will be based on the following scale:

Percentage Letter Grade

90 - 100	A
80 - 89	B
70 - 79	C
60 - 69	D
Below 60	F

Note that violation of academic honesty can affect the course grade. "Cheating" on an exam (i.e., the giving or receiving of aid) will result in a course grade of "F." See "Academic Dishonesty" below.

Note that classroom behavior that disrupts or distracts (for example, talking to other students during lecture) can negatively affect course grade, e.g., an "A" can become an "F." Do not expect the instructor to tell you that you are talking or that your talking is distracting or that your course grade is falling to a lower grade level; just assume that it is. Whispering, of course, is a form of talking. Of course, talking is not the only form of distraction or disruption [see Classroom Civility below].

CLASSROOM CIVILITY:

Students are expected to assist in maintaining a classroom environment that is conducive to learning. In order to assure that all students have an opportunity to gain from time spent in class, unless otherwise approved by the professor, students are prohibited from using laptop computers, cellular phones or beepers, text messaging, ear phones, eating in class, making offensive remarks, reading newspapers, sleeping, talking among each other at inappropriate times, or engaging in any other form of disruption or distraction. [See Course Evaluation Process above for effect on Course Grade]. Please turn off your cell phone and put it away before class begins!!!

UNIVERSITY POLICIES:

You will find on-line a more detailed description of the University Student Syllabus Guidelines for the following policies at: <http://www.shsu.edu/syllabus/>.

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY: Students are expected to maintain honesty and integrity in the academic experiences both in and out of the classroom. In other words: No Cheating. Business and Accounting Ethics are an extension of personal ethics. To develop strong business ethics, be personally responsible and ethical right now. Note that violation of academic honesty can affect the course grade. "Cheating" on an exam (i.e., the giving or receiving of aid) will result in a course grade of "F." See Student Syllabus Guidelines above.

RELIGIOUS HOLY DAYS:

Section 51.911(b) of the Texas Education Code requires that an institution of higher education excuse a student from attending classes or other required activities, including examinations, for the observance of a religious holy day, including travel for that purpose. A student whose absence is excused under this subsection may not be penalized for that absence and shall be allowed to take an examination or complete an assignment from which the student is excused within a reasonable time absence. See Student Syllabus Guidelines.

DISABLED STUDENT POLICY:

It is the policy of Sam Houston State University that individuals otherwise qualified shall not be excluded, solely by reason of their disability, from participation in any academic program of the university. Further, they shall not be denied the benefits of these programs nor shall they be subjected to discrimination. Students with disabilities that might affect their academic performance are expected to visit with the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities located in the Counseling Center. See Student Syllabus Guidelines.

ATTENDANCE POLICY:

Regular and punctual attendance is expected of each student at Sam Houston State University. A record of class attendance will be maintained for each student. Attendance will be taken at the start of each class.

DROP DATE:

May 8 is the last day to drop a class without a grade of F.
May 8 is the last day for resignations.
