2009: American Accounting Association 2009 Annual Meeting. ABSTRACT: The FASB Accounting Standards Codification is expected to become the single source of authoritative nongovernmental U.S. GAAP in 2009. The Accounting Standards Codification does not change existing U.S. GAAP but reorganizes it into roughly 90 accounting topics displayed using a consistent structure. On July 1, 2009, FASB is expected to officially launch the Accounting Standards Codification and U.S. GAAP will be contained in 'an easily accessible, user-friendly online research system' (FASB, 12/4/08).

With this dramatic change in the structure of U.S. GAAP imminent, it is imperative that this resource be introduced to current accounting students. The exercises presented here introduce the FASB Accounting Standards Codification to students by taking advantage of various online resources provided by FASB, including the Codification made available to constituents during a verification period that began January 15, 2008. New York City, New York.
